

Beautiful Sashiko Embroidery Ideas Easy To Follow

Sashiko embroidery is a traditional Japanese embroidery technique that uses small, running stitches to create geometric patterns. It is a form of decorative stitching that is often used on indigo-dyed fabric. Sashiko is a versatile embroidery technique that can be used to create a variety of designs, from simple stripes to complex geometric patterns.

To get started with Sashiko embroidery, you will need the following materials:

- Sashiko thread
- Sashiko needle
- Fabric (indigo-dyed cotton is traditional)
- Embroidery hoop
- Scissors

1. Choose a design. There are many different Sashiko designs to choose from, so take some time to browse online or in books to find one that you like.
2. Transfer the design to your fabric. You can do this by using a lightbox or by tracing the design onto a piece of tracing paper and then transferring it to your fabric.
3. Thread your needle. Sashiko thread is typically used in a single strand, so thread your needle accordingly.

4. Start stitching. Hold the fabric taut in your embroidery hoop and begin stitching the design. Use small, running stitches, and be sure to keep the stitches even.
5. Finish the embroidery. Once you have finished stitching the design, tie off the thread and trim any excess.
